Working together

Creating a school partnership

The idea of the partnership is to bring together local schools and colleges to support Pilgrims Hospices by offering a framework of fundraising support that enables children and students to actively develop their own fundraising ideas.

We offer guidance and assistance in the planning, marketing and successful delivery of these activities and celebrate and acknowledge achievements.

We can provide a pack of fundraising ideas to support children and students as well as be on hand to answer any questions they may have. The key is to make fundraising accessible to all and provide a structured framework for the students to develop new skills.

There are many ways fundraising with Pilgrims Hospices would benefit both young and older students alike. Participating in charity fundraising activities builds team working skills as well as showing an awareness of social responsibility. The planning, organising and delivery of an event is experience that older students can add to their CV, while those completing their UCAS applications can also add the experience to their personal statement. For younger students, it introduces them to the importance of thinking of others, giving and charitable work.

Our aim is to encourage children and students to gain an insight into the role of a hospice within the community and how important fundraising is to help us achieve this. We hope to build an understanding of the impact our services have for those dealing with a life limiting illness and how the care we provide is very different to that experienced in a hospital.

Pilgrims Hospices - who we are

Our vision is of a community where people with a life limiting illness are supported and empowered, together with their family and friends, to live well in mind and body, and make the most of the time they have.

We have proudly provided skilled and compassionate care, completely free of charge, to patients and families across east Kent for over thirty years.

We touch the lives of 1 in 4 people in east Kent; now caring for more than 2,300 people each year - a figure that is set to climb in the years ahead as people live longer and with more complex conditions.

Most people know about the care Pilgrims nurses and specialists offer 24/7 to patients on our wards in Margate, Canterbury and Ashford - less talked about is the support that our team gives in people's own homes, in the community and through our Pilgrims Therapy Centres Wellbeing and Social programme.
