

Are you a family caregiver of someone living with motor neuron disease (MND)?

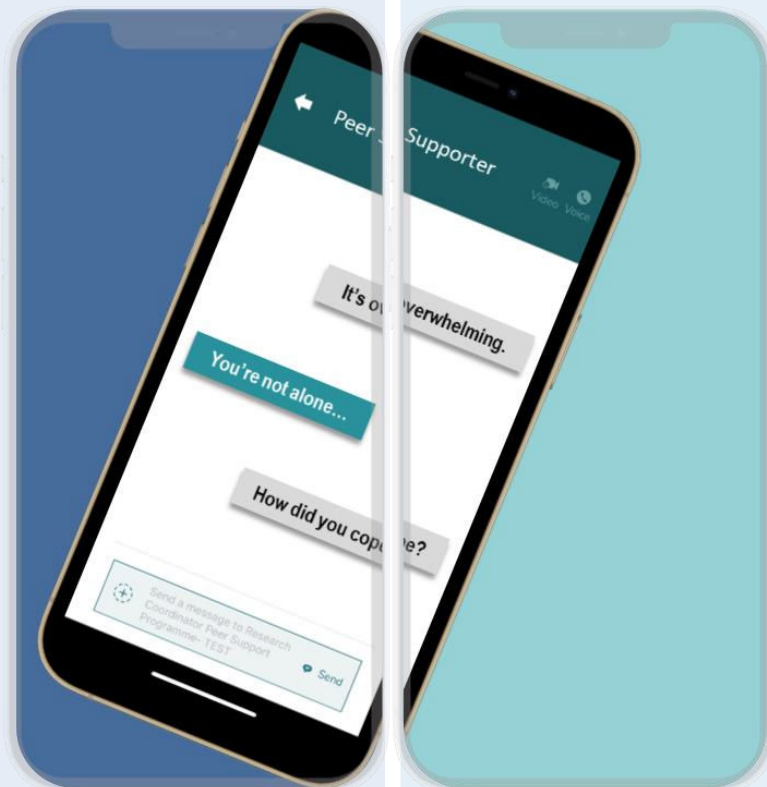

Take part in a research study

Participants will be randomised to receive either a

- 12-week online peer support programme from volunteers with lived experience of caring for someone with MND

Or

- The usual support

“ I have been a part of the study for a short period of time and have gained a lot. It reinforces how everyone's journey is very different yet there are lots of similarities
